WE APPEAL TO

Those Princetonians who have ever hoped and prayed that tomorrow will be better, who in their trouble-darkened moments have felt the need for turning to some one for help, for understanding, for reassurance.

Because Christmas is a season for inner as well as for outer joy, and because Christmas is a time when men and women seem by one consent to open their hearts to others, TOWN TOPICS presents the following facts for the consideration of all of Princeton.

There is on the fringes of our community a wonderfully devoted couple—a grandmother approaching 60 and her 15-year old granddaughter, who are fighting, and fighting desperately, to remain together. The child, a refugee from unthinking parents who have seen her only occasionally since she was an infant, is asking for time, enough time so that "I can finish school and take care of 'Mum'." The woman, to whom tears come often and sleep comes hard, works 12-to-15 hours a day and worries about "what will happen to Dolly if anything happens to me."

Shortly after World War II the family numbered three but suddenly Mr. S., a skilled mason, was laid low by a series of heart attacks. Lingering illness ate up his savings; after death, insurance benefits amounted to several hundred dollars. Mrs. S., in uncertain health for some years and dependent on her husband in all things, was faced with the responsibility of providing for herself and Dolly.

Intensely proud of the fact that "Mr. S. and I never asked for credit and always paid our bills," the widow struck out on her own by taking in laundry and "boarding" young children. Things, however, went from bad to worse and she was sinking deeper and deeper into the rut of despair, when social workers, at the suggestion of a former neighbor, stepped into the picture. They supplemented her meager earnings and helped her gain recognition as a "boarding-mother." In her late 50's she had a livelihood, doing everything for as many as five babies, with Dolly helping in the mornings before school and again in the afternoons and evenings.

Now—in December, 1950—Mrs. S. and Dolly are threatened with eviction from the frame dwelling that permits them to eke out their marginal existence together. The grandmother's hearing is fading, the hours of washing "take more out of her," she needs relief from unending worry. While it is essential for Dolly to have something more than the two cotton dresses and one pair of shoes she now owns, and while Mrs. S. should buy a second pair of shoes and another dress, it is infinitely more important for them to know that others are standing at their side and that Christmas—even in a world racked by doubt—is not just another dreary day.

Amount needed: upwards of $500.00.

THIS APPEAL IS MADE ONLY IN TOWN TOPICS. THERE WILL BE NO OTHER SOLICITATION OF ANY KIND. AND NO ONE BUT YOU WILL EVER KNOW WHETHER OR NOT YOU PASS IT BY.

Checks should be made payable to THE TOWN TOPICS Christmas Fund and mailed to TOWN TOPICS, Post Office Box 371, Princeton.

Gift Centers. Contributions to TOWN TOPICS' annual Christmas appeal (see cover) may not only be mailed to Box 371 but can be left at Hinkson's, 74 Nassau Street, or the Y.W.C.A., 202 Nassau. It is hoped (but is in no way essential) that donors will record their name and address so that they may be individually thanked.

The Caissons Come Rolling. Indication of the first major change to be wrought in the Princeton area by the war came this week with reported purchase by the government of the 800-acre tract of the Rockefeller Institute on U. S.
Route 1. In broad terms, it is expected that the location will be used for an Army Quartermaster Corps research laboratory operating under an annual budget of $6,000,000.

Initial (and unofficial) aspects of the project list a payroll of some 600 persons, which would in turn add to the population of the greater Princeton area by some 1,500 men, women and children.
Said to be part of the government's plans is a 400-unit housing project, to go east of the superhighway on part of the huge tract which the Rockefeller interests first acquired for medical research in 1914.

Sale price of the land and buildings (used for animal and plant pathology until the entire project was consolidated with Rockefeller's
New York research facilities earlier this year) is a reported $1,500,000.
While many of the units already standing will be utilized, it has been announced that the world's largest climatic chamber is planned for the site.

Projects contemplated are believed to include tests of resistance to below-zero temperatures, conducted in specially-built "freezing chambers." In this connection a thorough check is being made of the water supply provided by the nearby Delaware and Raritan Canal.

Should the project be completed as outlined, its presence—and its population—would be keenly felt in the Princeton area. Among the benefits to be derived will be the additional purchasing power of some 400 families who might well be induced to make Princeton their shopping center.

Magic Number. Santa Claus was ready and, it went without saying, so was the town's youngest generation. To give them an exciting taste of pre-Christmas pleasures, arrangements had been completed by TOWN TOPICS to run a direct line to the North Pole and let them talk to him by telephone in his toy shop.

Over 3375, he'll answer their calls from 3 to 5 this Friday and Saturday afternoon, and each afternoon next week, Monday through Saturday. Parents are requested to limit their youngster's conversations to two or three minutes, so that as many calls as possible can be handled.

While Santa Claus is legion throughout the U.S., in Princeton, he is Henry Schultz, 65 years old but as young in heart as any of the spry small fry with whom he will chatter in engaging fashion. Ready to play again the role he so enjoyed last year, Mr. Schultz is undismayed by the fact that his failing eyesight has now given way to total blindness.

At the invitation of Mrs. Minot C. Morgan, Jr., whose efforts are largely responsible for this community project, these Princeton business and professional firms and individuals contributed to a fund which will show that once children of the community have been cared for, the warm-heartedness of Santa Claus is not forgotten.

Building Halted. Some two months of growing protests on the part of property owners in the Hillcrest residential section of Princeton Township (north of Township Hall, on both sides of Route 31) culminated Monday night with an order by the township committee restraining Harold A. Pearson from further construction on the large storage building he is erecting. The structure, in which lumber and other construction materials are being stored, is charged by some two dozen families in the area with violating the zoning ordinance and the building code.

Represented by Ralph S. Mason, the home owners, basing their objections on devaluation of their property by Mr. Pearson's activity, presented a letter listing six reasons for requesting that the building permit be revoked. In addition to what was set forth as non-conforming use, technical violations cited included improper rear-yard dimensions and failure to subdivide with fire walls.

The township committee instructed its building official, Richard E. Bradley, to forbid further construction pending a hearing, and then set Monday evening as the date for such a session. Mr. Pearson asked for more time and Mr. Mason also found Monday unsatisfactory but the committee felt that action should at least be initiated at the earliest possible moment.

GIFTS FOR THE HOUSE. In useable, interesting, attractive linens Clayton's has eye-catching items for enhancing three separate parts of the house: dining room, kitchen and bathroom.

Their "Country Print" cotton and linen sets are thoroughly original, equally colorful. The patterns, taken from a wide variety of traditional art forms which we'd love to describe in detail, are designed and hand-printed by Robert Dorr Wert. Articles range from cocktail napkins through breakfast sets and table runners to luncheon sets; prices are much lower than looking at them would lead you to expect.

Martex kitchen sets, consisting of linen dish towels, terry hand towels, potholders and dishcloths, hit us just right. We liked their coloring — yellow, rich green and bright red — their "matchiness" and their prices, which range from 30 to 79 cents. New Martex fingered terry towels sets really dry hands and dress up your bathroom while waiting to do the job. Five towels in two colors come nicely boxed for $2.39.

Somebody smart (presumably a man) has just dreamed up a real housewife's helper: a mixing bowl that fits into a "Grip-Tite" suction base. Both base and bowl (of glass one-ware) hang on for dear life, one to the table, the other to the base, at any angle in which you set it, leaving both hands free. It's $.95 at Farr Hardware, 138 Nassau.

Also there is the useful little "Clean-sweep," a miniature, short-handled carpet sweeper for table crumb-cleaning. It's made more "gifty" by a hand-decorated design, 95 cents.

Still along practical lines, the "Silverline" plates at Better Mouse-trap, 164 Nassau, are another bright idea for work-saving. Gay paper liners fit into aluminum plates which, needless to say, are durable and leak-proof. When your guests have finished their repast, all that remains for you is to throw away the liners and put away the plates. The plates come in different sizes and with various numbers of liners; refills are available.

With guests still in mind, the bar trays at Zavelle's are a fine aid for the man of the house. Eight glasses (highball, old-fashioned or cocktail) come in their own carrying tray. The stand and handle are aluminum; the glass-holding block, wood.

Sliding, slipping and tipping over of glasses while en route to living room or guest's hand are completely eliminated. The sets, which are, incidentally, quite good-looking as well as practical, start at $9.

Speaking of glasses, the new Russell Wright patterns in glassware is also at Zavelle's. It's safe — Continued on Page 7

tion voted to replace, effective next Fall, its reception grade with a kindergarten. Children who are in the 5-year age bracket will accordingly attend school for some two and a half hours instead of six, will be home for lunch and a nap (in place of lunch at school), further activity in place of a nap, topped off by a long bus ride.)

The past five years have been marked by spasmodic effort on the part of township residents to have the change effected and periodic conferences on the subject by the board of education. Last month, the change was voted to take effect in September, 1951. Board members voted in their sound decision by factual material on the pros and cons of the problem—including favorable comments on kindergarten-type schooling for the youngest pupils—all of it painstakingly compiled by Mrs. Arthur L. Keiser, Jr. of 170 Jefferson Road.

Saturday Tragedy. About four o'clock Saturday afternoon, 22-months old Jeanette Smoyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley C. Smoyer of 7 Newlin Road, was attracted to the lily pond in the yard of a next door neighbor, Albert F. Wright. Some how she fell through the ice, and a pane of three storm windows placed over the water to keep it from freezing.

An hour and a half after the little girl had been found by Mr. Wright and her father, after Dr. Willard G. Rainey and police with a resuscitator had applied artificial respiration in vain, word of her tragic death spread quietly from one saddened household to another.

Miscellany. The parking limit along the inside curb of Palmer Square (near the post office, where there are no meters) has been extended to an hour to facilitate mailing of Christmas packages . . . the parking windows will be open until 6 Saturday afternoon.

Richard L. Anderson has been elected chief of the Fire Department for 1951, replacing William Larkins. Leland G. Birch is the new first assistant, Walter P. Foley the second assistant, and each will become chief in succeeding years.

One of the last official acts of James L. Briner Jr., as a councilman (he retires this month after 12 years of service to the community) was to present to the mayor and council on behalf of the department a new $17,500 chemical plant. At Tuesday night's meeting, Mr. Briner will be honored Saturday at the annual dinner of borough officials in the Nassau Tavern.

Songs have been born to Mr. & Mrs. Thomas Miller, 95 Birch; Mr. & Mrs. Ronald Brook, 38 Alexander; daughters to Mr. & Mrs. Samuel Federico, 177 Witherspoon; and Mr. & Mrs. John Cashill, 37 Ewing.

Frank J. Clark Jr. of Herrontown Road will lead the 116-voice Du-Pont Chorus in a program of Christmas carols over the NBC network Tuesday night at 8. Mr. Clark studied voice and choral training at the Westminster Choir College and has sung with the NBC Sym-

AVALON

Both Your Houses (Thurs.-Fri.) is finishing a four-day run at the hands of the Community Players, with A. Munro Wade as the director. The cast includes Mrs. Gordon Knox, Miss Corrine Manning, Miss Helen Hankinson, Robert McManus, Carl Collyer, Thomas Potter, Henry Siegle, Chester Griswold, George Brown, Richard Hilliard, Edward Borgers, John English, Robert Hunter, Joseph Weber, Alan Poole and William Young.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Breakthrough (Thurs.-Sat.) is a vivid, impressive record of the landing at Omaha Beach and the bitter fighting that was necessary to pave the way for the victory at St. Lo in 1944. Official Army films lend realism, but a story about a particular rifle squad is interwoven throughout the picture. A sobering film in view of current world conditions.

The West Point Story (Sun.-Wed.) gets off on the wrong foot when it installs a Broadway showman, (46-year-old James Cagney) as a plebe at the U. S. Military Academy. From there, a mixture of musical comedy and glorification of the military citadel on the Hudson combine to make it pretty tough fare for adults to swallow, although the sugar coating makes it the kind of holiday entertainment children will enjoy.

Never a Dull Moment (Thurs.-Sat.) casts Irene Dunne as a successful Broadway songwriter who marries rancher Fred MacMurray and settles down to solve the problems of a rough and ready life in the cow country. The story has some charm but is often incredibly slow and, for all her other ability as an actress, Miss Dunne would have done well to bypass the three songs she attempts to put across.

THE GARDEN

Devil's Doorway (Fri.-Sat.) tells of the white man's injustice to an Indian who fought for the Union during the Civil War and returns to Wyoming, determined to open his lands to persecuted people of all color. Sincere in its message but inept in its telling. Robert Taylor and Louis Calhern head the cast.

Right Cross (Mon.-Tues.) mixes a boxing story (in which the hero has to lose the fight to win the girl) with routine treatment of Ricardo Montalban's problems as a Mexican-American trying to live down his ties with a minority group. Good action shots in the ring, little else.

Tripoli (Wed.-Thurs.) is a satisfactory juvenile film in Technicolor that records the deeds of the U. S. Marines in capturing a city in North Africa and conquering the Barbary Coast pirates when they challenge this young nation's right to the seas. John Payne is with Maureen O'Hara, who adds to the 19th century scenery.

WHEN IT COMES to candy, come to Thorne's. Christmas peppermint canes, clear crystal candy, hard candies, many other delicious treats. 168 Nassau Street.

Mrs. Ralph Belford reports a need for new or used hospital supplies (enamelware, rubber goods, linens) which donors may leave at the new office.

A miniature soap box derby (entries of "rolling stock" of all kinds mounted on wheels no more than three inches apart) gave Cub Pack 77 a hilarious night at the Valley Road School. David Wentworth of Den 1 and Bruce Houghton of Den 8 tied for first place, with Peter Epstein, Den 4, and George Cramer, Den 8, the runners-up.

The Lions Club will sponsor its Christmas Carol Sing at 6 o'clock, December 24 in Palmer Square. Three special choirs will be heard, in addition to the group selections. Chester A. Page and Martin Mains are co-chairmen of the committee; other members are Robert Mandol, Frederick Lehnert, Arthur Turney Sr., Charles Rocknak, Irwin Weiss, Dr. William L. Tucker, James Fraser, Frederick Mains, Warren Forelich, Eric Mihan and Charles Williams.

COME TO THE Witherspoon Art and Bookshop, 33 Witherspoon, for your Christmas number, Plaisir de France.

to say that anything designed by Mr. Wright combines artistic appearance with usability, and these glasses are no exception.

Colors are interesting, and a curving pinch-bottle effect provides a good grip and good looks. Regular old-fashioned ones are 50 cents apiece, oversized ones and highballs, 60 cents each.

"Argental," a silver and aluminum alloy which is worked to give a heaten silver effect, is used for the tops of light blue-green pottery or Pyrex casseroles at The Cummins Shop, 96 Nassau. Sizes range from individual to 3 quarts, starting at $1.50; and they're something quite different along casserole lines.

Decorative and versatile are the tole boxes at The Town Shop, 12 Nassau. Really nice old prints (including butterflies, shells and ornamental escutcheons) are atop the gold-trimmed, different colored boxes, while the insides are divided into convenient compartments, which make them good for either dressing table or desk. They're $6.75 and look like more.

A "Shoe Valet" at either Hull's or Brophy's, is a nice combination of personality and practicality. A reproduction of an authentic New England wooden bucket, it contains shoe polish, brushes, applicators and shine cloths (two of each), and the top, when turned over, has a form on which to polish the shoe. It should make shoe polishing more fun for every member of the family, at $4.95.

Scissors don't sound like a very exciting gift, but when you have a pair that supposedly does eighteen (18!) separate jobs, that's something yet again. The Swiss-made, hard steel scissors can be used, among other things, for: wirecutters, ruler, penknife, marking wheel, tack hammer, glass cutter and nailfile. These are only a few of the uses which are listed and illustrated in an accompanying pamphlet. They're $5 at Luttmann's, 132 Nassau. Also imported are the charming, hand-decorated in Germany, cuckoo clocks at Better Mousetrap. They start at $10.80, including tax, and would add to any nursery or bedroom in the ever-intriguing fashion of cuckoo clocks.

NEXT-TO-LAST-MINUTE ROUNDUP. Before starting with stocking gifts (which we'll continue next week) we want to get in a few items that have appeared since our first covering of gifts for men, women and children, because we think they're specially worth mentioning.

For handy men the famous-in-pre-war-days Suisse knife has, happily, appeared again at Luttmann's, and we know of nothing better in the field of knives. The case is in red enamel, the instruments—including scissors, drill, saw, file, can and bottle opener and two different knife blades—are of the finest steel. It's $14 and worth it if your man likes the very best. Incidentally, all gift items at Luttmann's are, naturally, in good leather cases.

Also there is a wonderful new —Continued on Page 11

Competition for the Captains. Two Princeton winter sports captains are likely to find themselves one and two in the front line in their respective activities during the coming season. Roddy Finney, All-American football center, leads the wrestlers and fits into the heavyweight division. He's pretty good, too, but so is Brad Glass (starting guard on the defensive platoon), who was ineligible last year because he had just transferred from Northwestern.

Wrestling independently, Glass won the New York State A.A.U. title last March, placed third in the nationals, and invariably topped Finney when the two met informally in Dillon Gym. This year, since all hope is gone of establishing a 191-pound class into which Finney would fit, the 202-pound Glass will be the varsity heavyweight so long as he can take the Tiger captain's measure and the latter will wrestle on the jayvees.

It was at the start of the second period in the New York A.C. game Saturday that Dick Vaughan made a shift that seems likely to be permanent. The "kid line," now seniors, (Ernie Montgomery, Don Mathey, Captain Chuck Weeden) began the firing for the Tiger skaters, but when the second round got under way, it was Hank Bothfeld, Gene Cleaves and Bill Gail who were called on at the outset.

That the switch was undeniably right, at least insofar as last weekend goes, was proved by the four goals credited to the sophomore line, Bothfeld getting three for the proverbial "hat trick." When sophomore Tom Davis of the third line registered the fifth Princeton goal, the seniors were shut out and now will have to fight their way back to the top.

Bothfeld's first period score, one by Gail, the tally by Davis and another by Bothfeld combined to give the home forces a 4-1 bulge as the final stanza got under way. But in the last eight minutes, the Nassau defense came apart at the seams and the New Yorkers tied the count 72 seconds before the game ended.

Bothfeld then capped a fine afternoon when he ended the sudden death overtime by jamming in his third goal in 1:15. The team starts an interesting five-game vacation trip this Friday, playing Michigan at Ann Arbor. The Wolverines will be the opposition again Saturday night, with Denver at Denver Tuesday and games against Colorado at Colorado Springs Thursday and Friday. Three out of five would be a major accomplishment for the improving Tigers.

Sophomores Gain Experience. Princeton's basketball team was off to a good start at home last week, toppling Lafayette, 56-45, and then coasting to a 76-64 triumph in a rugged fray against Bucknell. The towering Tigers will go against Colgate in the gym Friday night at 8:30, with a three-game mid-western trip set for the week after Christmas.

Captain Mike Kearns and Chuck DeVoe paced the opening triumph, each netting 12 points. The half-time count of 34-17 in favor of the Orange and Black was in marked contrast to the outing at Easton a year ago, when Lafayette led by Idea for either gentleman or lady who has everything and also happens to be a sports or theatre lover. "Turtle Binoculars" are, as you might guess, built into their own red leather case, which is about the size of a cigarette case. When you snap open the case, the binoculars with their four power lens, are ready for use. When finished looking, just close the case. They're unique and compact for $18.

The Watch Shop, 20 Nassau, does specially well by either men or women this Christmas, thanks to several new models in watches which just hit the market. One is a smallish, leather-strapped 17 jewel, Swiss watch for ladies which is newly available in yellow gold. For only $39.75 you get all that plus a luminous dial, sweep second hand and a waterproof-shockproof watch too.

The fair sex, too, can now have automatic (self-winding) watches, which is probably even more important for them than for men, who are less apt to overwind or forget to wind their watches. A waterproof, white gold model in the automatic is $49.75 inc.

For the first time Bulova has put out men's automatic watches. They're also waterproof, etc., and start at $49.50.

A really impressive "machine", i.e., Chronograph, should gladden the hearts of any sports lovers or about-to-be service men; and what's more, it's a real buy, money-wise. The waterproof watch, with gray leather strap, not only tells time with hour and sweep second hand, but it has a "timer" which can cover accurately everything from race horses to m.p.h. to, heaven forbid, assault landings.

Comparable Chronographs usually sell for $75 or more; this one is only $55. Incidental information: all watches bought before Christmas at The Watch Shop are guaranteed, not for the customary one year, but for two! Also there is a wide selection of gold and sterling religious medals and crosses complete with chains, and, for frivolous wearing, a nice choice of gold-filled mesh snake bracelets from which dangle a heart, four-leaf clover or —Continued on Page 12

Aprons of various sorts are particularly cute at Lillian Bellows. Our favorite is the "Shoeshine Boy," a blue denim, moscoline, tie-around apron, with pockets full of real polish, brush, cloth, etc., $1.49.

For the girls, there's a plaid-trimmed apron, complete with kitchen utensils and an attached plaid potholder ($1.10); very feminine, ruffly "dolly and me" twin aprons and a number of other appealing styles. The Tiny Town dolls at Lillian Bellows are adorable, handmade doll-house size characters from all over the world, fascinating in costume detail, which can bend all over the place and not break. Theirs is $1.95.

The cowboy motif is, of course, everywhere you turn. A bit different, however, is the Hopalong Cassidy, Jack knife at Farr Hardware. It includes three blades, a screwdriver and a bottle opener and comes complete with plastic holder for attaching to a belt for 95 cents.

Hopalong also appears in all his glory on a gold-leafed wallet with a secret pocket at The Boys' Clothing Line, 57 Palmer Square. Rudolph, complete with a jeweled red nose, leaps onto a wallet there, too. The former is $1.50, the latter, $1.25.

At Zavelle's, the ever-popular, solidly-made British Dinky Toys have increased the number of miniature models in the line. They start at 75 cents, and beginning a collection of them solves the small present problem for a long time.

The educational, entertaining Viewmaster there has been improved considerably by a new light attachment which fits on to the model your child has. It gives a much clearer picture and relieves the strain on eyes and arms, since it makes scrounging around to hold the Viewmaster up to the light a thing of the past. The light attachment is $2 with replaceable batteries.

SPORTS IN SHORT

24-9 and the Tigers had one lone field goal to their credit. The Leopards went on to win, 48-35.

Bucknell's short men (only the center was over six feet) were never in the game last Friday. Hitting at the perfect pace of nine for nine in the first six and a half minutes, Princeton was off to a 20-8 lead and had increased this to 43-20 at the half. The final score was within four points of the Tigers' all-time total at home—set against Rutgers last January.

Thirty points by DeVoe in his first two games have helped, as have good play by Dave Sisler and Fred Tritschler, the two forwards. Foster Cooper, 6-7 center, has also showed signs of distinct ability but needs more experience than the rest. Mike Kearns remains one of the East's topflight players.

The Nassau quintet made it three in a row this year and 13 straight over two seasons when it topped Rutgers at New Brunswick Tuesday night. Holding a thin 24-23 lead at the half, the Orange and Black increased this steadily as DeVoe and Kearns hit with considerable accuracy.

DeVoe fouled out with five minutes left after getting 17 points but Kearns had 16 for the night and was on hand to direct the defense when the losers staged a final rally. The outcome was a 57-51 verdict; the skein is likely to be broken Friday night by a Colgate quintet good enough to polish off N.Y.U. in Madison Square Garden.

Short Notes. In winning the nomination as Coach of the Year, Charlie Caldwell polled 111 first-place votes, more than the combined total of the two men (California's Waldorf, Oklahoma's Wilkinson) who finished immediately below him. He'll be the guest of honor at a dinner meeting of the American Football Coaches Association in Dallas on January 11.

Princeton's undefeated year got recognition from the sportswriting world when it was voted "the biggest surprise of 1950." On the other side of the fence, you could find Notre Dame, which was termed "the biggest flop of 1950."

Princeton High opened its basketball season Tuesday afternoon with a 57-39 rout of Manasquan. Buster Thomas started at a sizzling pace as he ran 12 baskets and four fouls through the hoop for 28 points. Howard Sweeney followed with 16 markers. The Blue and White jayvees also won, 51-44, over Manasquan's reserves.
